Quercetin (QE), a natural flavonoid, has a broad spectrum of antioxidant activities. The present study was designed to explore the structure-activity relationship of QE. In vitro studies were conducted to determine 1,1-diphenyl-2-picrylhydrazyl (DPPH) scavenging ability, 2,2'-azino-bis(3-ethylbenzothiazoline-6-sulfonic acid) (ABTS) radical scavenging ability, oxygen radical absorbance capacity (ORAC) and reducing power of QE derivatives. The results showed that the DPPH and ABTS radical scavenging ability were closely related to the molar ratio of hydroxyl and methoxyl groups in the structure of Q f678ca99e
